Mr. Cleveland and an Extra Session The Washington Post of yesterday mentions an unverified report that Mr. CLEVE-LAND is in favor of an extra session of Congress to be held "either in the spring or fall."

We have opposed a spring session of Congress, and have said that it would be much better to hold a fall session. But we doubt that Mr. CLEVELAND has said to anybody that he is in favor of either a spring session or a fall session-that is, extra session. He is not given to gossiping about public matters nor to forecasting the future of the measures proposed in Washington by first one and then another of the members of Congress who cannot hope to distinguish themselves otherwise.

Possibly Mr. WHITNEY knows the views of the President-elect in regard to an extra session, but it is not at all sure that even Mr. WHITNEY has interrogated him on this subject.

Guess after guess has been made during the last month or six weeks, but "expressive silence" is what Mr. CLEVELAND sion next spring. contributes to such discussions.

A Pension for Mrs. Davis. From the Atlanta Constitution we learn that a number of Georgians have determined to pledge themselves in personal subscriptions to provide for Mrs. JEFFERson Davis a pension of $500 per annum during the remainder of her life. The Constitution states that Mrs. Davis has no reliable income; that her plantation brings her in debt almost, and that owing to the failure of her publishers she realized hardly anything from her book. It seems to us that if the matter is promptly taken in hand by energetic persons bere it will not be a difficult matter to get Virginians to undertake to raise a like sum of $500 for Mrs. Davis. Indeed, something of this sort was talked about a year or two ago; but it was then understood that Mrs. Davis was averse to any such idea. Her circumstances have certainly altered since then, and we presume that the Georgians know what they are about in the movement that they have At the last session of our General Assembly a quiet but thorough canvass of its members was made with the view of ascertaming if votes enough could be counted on to pass a pension bill giving Mrs. Davis about $500 per annum. The responses were very favorable indeed until the question of the constitutionality of the proposed measure was raised. After that it was seen that it would not be advisable to introduce the bill. But there is no legal or other objection to the Georgia plan, and we trust that it will be adopted in Virginia and in other southern States, We have plenty of people of fortune who will gladly subscribe.

The South will become the scorn of her enemies, and will put to shame her friends if she permits the few remaining years of the widow of the Confederate President to be passed in poverty.

The Australian Ballot.

We in Virginia have allowed the other States to experiment upon the Australian ballot, whilst we have steered clear of it. The Albany Journal declares that whilst it has said nothing about the old system of voting, that system is "immeasurably preferable to the hodge-podge from which the Empire State is now suffering." And IT IS PERFECTLY PURE AND DELIGRIFUL one of our Ohio exchanges says in truly western phrase that "instead of attempting to patch up the kangaroo, it would be better to cut off its tail close behind its

These comments upon the Australian ballot justify the people of Virginia for having proceeded slowly in the work of ballot reform. Perhaps by the time our next State convention assembles to frame a new constitution for Virginia the best mode of balloting will have been discovered or invented. There is much to be said in favor of a secret ballot; but it is not for that reason to be assumed that the Australian system is the best possible one for Virginia.

The Shipments of Gold.

There seems to be in some quarters grave apprehensions that the steady addition of $4,000,000 a month of paper money to our circulation is driving gold out of the country, and timid people are beginning to ap-prehend a suspension of gold payments by the government and the banks, and a consequent premium upon the metal. So says a New York paper. But the Secretary of the Treasury says that he is ready to bet that there will be no pre-mium on gold by the 1st of June (we think it is). He is confident that he can maintain the parity of gold and silver, and is determined to do it. United States bonds can be sent to Europe if necessary. It seems to us that Secretary Fosten is over-confident, but all the same we are glad to find him occupying the ground that he does.

Mr.Wilson Re-elected Chairman-Hon, W. L. Wilson, of West Virginia, has been re-elected obsirman of the new Executive Committee of the National Association of Democratic Clubs.

No man has grown in reputation more rapidly than Mr. Wilson. He has proved himself to be able, faithful, and courageous. He is a born leader of men. And yet he was first nominated for the House of Representatives whilst he was a professor in the University of West Virginia a man of letters known only as an instructor of young men. We might say that Mr. Wilson has never hesitated to go where Democratic principles led him. He has achieved fame and been otherwise successful because he was not afraid to avow his opinions.

Matters of Authorship-In the Library of American Literature, Volume II., the authors (EDMUND CLAR-ENCE STEDMAN and ELLEN MACKAY HUTCH-INSON) have a foot-note correcting a previous publication ascribing to Mr. Chave-LAND the authorship of the sentence, "A public office is a public trust." They state that they believe that Judge Cooler was the first to make use of that expression, and they quote those very words from an article by Judge Cooley which was published in the American Law Review in 1877. The next year Judge Cooley in The Law of Torts used the expression, "Offices are public trusts," &c.

In Volume VIII. of this library the anthorship of "Stonewall Jackson's Way" is ascribed to John Williamson Palmes. who was born in Baltimore in 1825.

In the same volume the authorship of 'All Quiet Along the Potomue To-Night ' is ascribed to ETHEL LYNN BREES, who was born in Goshen, N. Y., in 1827. It is stated that the poem first appeared in Harper's Weekly in 1861.

The Washington Post quotes the Hon. GEORGE D. Wise as expressing much doubt whether the national quaractine bill can be passed at the present session of Con-

If Congress does not pass such a law at this session, then the advocates of an extra session will have been very much strengthened.

A WASHINGTON LETTER.

One Firm in Buffalo Spends More
than all the Banks and Newspapers combined.

A Washington (D. C.) letter says, that the post-office authorities at Washington report that one firm in Buffalo—the World's Dispensary Medical Association—spends annually one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) for tamos alone, in carrying on their extensive one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) for stamps alone, in carrying on their extensive proprietary business. This is more than all the banks and newspapers of Buffalo combined spend for postage.

Here's a firm which has grown, step by step, through many years to greatness. The reason for this wonderful growth has been that they have faith in what they sell, so much faith that if they can't benefit or care, they don't want your money.

For many years they have been selling Dr. Pierce's remelies—one, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, for regulating and invigorating the liver and purifying the blood; the other, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, the hope of weakly womanhood, and they've been sold for years, sold by the million bettles; sold under a positive guarantee of benefiting or curing, or your money will be refunded.

The effect of the water is to regulate the uri-The effect of the water is to regulate the urinary secretions and to act powerfully on the kidneys, causing the urine to flow freely and correcting entirely that extreme acidity of the urine which is often so troublesome and painful, and it acts gently on the bowels—its good effects in this last respect being perceptibly felt after using for several days.

It corrects acidity of the stomach, aids digestion, stimulates the appetite, and builds up the system. It is pure, clear, and light, and may be used in large quantities without feeling any fulness or inconvenience. A just estimate of its merits cannot be had unless it is used regularly for a week or ten days.
